Your Cornish retreat by the sea

“Puffins” is a 300 years old fisherman’s cottage which sleeps 4 and is spread over 3 floors. There is a double bedroom on the top floor, a bathroom and twin bedroom (full size bunk beds) on the first floor and a kitchen/lounge/diner on the ground floor. It is centrally heated & fully equipped. Linen & towels are provided. “Puffins” has its own allocated parking space in the Seafront Car Park just a 1 minute walk away.

From the top floor there are beautiful views across the rooftops towards Hannafore in the West, Rame Head in the East and out to sea.

“Puffins” is ideally situated in the historic old part of East Looe and is only 50 yards from the seafront. You can make your coffee in the kitchen and drink it on the beach! There are numerous restaurants, cafes, typical Cornish pubs etc just a few minutes walk away. Looe itself is a vibrant fishing town with a maze of narrow streets. The many “day” fishermen land their catches and sell them at the fish market on the quay. Some of the fish is transported to restaurants around the whole of the country – as well as those in Looe of course!

As well as a lovely beach, there are some fantastic walks and boat trips from Looe and it is an excellent base for exploring the beautiful West Country, both in summer and winter. It is approximately 20 miles West of Plymouth and has good road links. You can even reach Looe by train, via the Branch Line from Liskeard 7 miles away.
